

100,000 NAMES IN ONE DAY TO ANTI-ROBERTS PETITION.

TRYING TO BREAK INTO CONGRESS.

Elder Snow Defends Polygamy on "Moral Grounds."

ROBERTS STILL HIDING.

He Has Now Been a Fugitive from Justice for Twelve Days.

More than one hundred thousand names were received by mail yesterday from sixteen States for the Journal's big petition to Congress against Roberts and polygamy.

There is now every indication that the petition of the American people in the interests of the sanctity and purity of the American home will aggregate several million names.

Elder Snow Defends Polygamy. At the semi-annual conference of Eastern Mormons, held last night at the Amphion Academy, Elder E. H. Snow, of Utah, made an address on the "Status of Polygamy in Utah."

Snow went over the same old ground, and endeavored to make his hearers believe that polygamy was dead in Utah, despite the fact of the constantly increasing number of convictions of Mormon leaders. Among other things he said:

"The Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints believes that the woman has the moral right to marry the man of her choice, and that no man, no woman, no force, no church has the right to say whom she shall marry. That would necessarily involve plural marriages as we are taught among the Latter Day Saints, that woman if she marries the man of her choice, will sometimes marry a man who is already married."

Brigham H. Roberts has been a fugitive from justice for twelve days. So that the public may better understand Roberts's conduct, it is only necessary to quote from a letter which he sent on November 3 from Brooklyn to W. H. Stanger, Jr., County Attorney of Centreville, Utah. A photograph of that letter was received in this city yesterday. The letter says, in part:

"If you will have my attorney informed of the name of any witnesses of the kind mentioned, he will write me and I will start immediately for Utah, as I hold myself amenable to the laws of my country. My home and fortune are permanently established in Utah. There is no fear of my fleeing from justice, and no necessity for Utah officers of the law to get out extradition papers for me, and thus add weight to the sensation that is being created by the 'Roberts Case.' Very truly yours, B. H. ROBERTS."

Five days after the receipt of this letter the warrant for Roberts's arrest was issued. Roberts's excuse as to why he does not return to Utah to face his trial are remarkable in view of the statements in this letter quoted above.

Signatures from Many States.

Among the signatures received yesterday were from: Meridian, Miss., 100; from Deane, O., 400; from Thomas, N. Y., 600; from Summit, Miss., 600; from Prospect, Ill., 1,000; from Bridgeport, Conn., 100; from Brooklyn, 200. Long lists also came in from: Baldwinville, N. Y.; Lawrence, Mass.; Sunset City, Pa.; Fall River, Mass.; Foster, Pa.

THE HEDGES GRAND JURY NOW READY.

Will Begin Work To-day on Alleged Frauds in Sheehan's District.

CHARGED BY THE JUDGE

Members Told That Crimes Against Elective Franchise Are Rife Here.

The first witnesses in the presentation of the hundred odd election cases—the definite results of the labors of Superintendent McCullagh and his 700 deputies—which will take up the time of the Special Grand Jury for the next week or two, will be brought before that jury at 10:45 o'clock this morning. Attention will first be paid to alleged irregularities in Sheehan's district, the Ninth.

This Grand Jury, empaneled in accordance with the proclamation of Governor Roosevelt, on October 28, to find indictments in cases of violation of the election laws, was chosen and charged yesterday before Justice Werner, of the Supreme Court. Afterward the twenty-three grand jurors walked to the Criminal Court Building, where they were given as quarters, a part of the suite of rooms recently vacated by the Board of Health. There they organized for business, heard what Special Deputy Attorney General Job E. Hedges had to say to them, and then adjourned until this morning.

This Grand Jury was chosen from a panel of fifty men. After all had been excused, those excused were deemed relevant by the Court, these final selections were made by lot:

LOUIS A. LEHMAYER, foreman, No. 904 West 14th street.
CHARLES H. BRAUTINGHAM, No. 187 Madison avenue.
LOUIS S. BRIDGES, No. 140 East Sixty-fourth street.
HENRY W. GRIMWOOD, No. 222 West Twenty-third street.
CHARLES W. ROSEYAN, No. 63 West Sixty-fourth street.
CHARLES W. FRENCH, No. 42 West Sixty-fourth street.
EDMUND J. CURRY, No. 80 East Eighty-ninth street.
MAX J. LISBATER, No. 64 East Eighty-third street.
MAX J. CUDDHY, No. 248 East Fifty-fifth street.
MILNE CHANCEY, No. 22 East Twenty-second street.
ANDREW J. CONNICK, No. 112 West Seventy-third street.
SYLVESTER J. O'SULLIVAN, No. 6 East Forty-second street.
DUDLEY KANANAGH, No. 16 West Forty-seventh street.
GEORGE J. WILLS, No. 102 East Eighty-fifth street.
ALONZO H. COIT, No. 1709 Broadway.
JACOB FRANKENTHAL, No. 602 Lexington avenue.
JOSEPH H. FLYNN, No. 157 West Seventy-second street.
EDWIN N. DOLL, No. 333 East Sixty-eighth street.
FREDERICK A. BOOTH, No. 39 West Tenth street.
CHARLES H. LAMLINE, No. 323 East Sixty-second street.
CHARLES W. MCLELLAN, No. 108 East Eighteenth street.
THOMAS B. BROWN, No. 9 West One Hundredth street.
ASCHER L. PHILLIPS, No. 23 East Forty-eighth street.
Justice Werner, in addressing the Grand Jury, said:

"I stand against the elective franchise, naturally, and their most congenial soil in our great centres of population, where the ignorant and depraved are controlled by bold and unscrupulous leaders who resort to all kinds of illegal devices to evade the laws, to thwart the popular will and to serve their own selfish ends. These evil conditions are said to obtain to a marked degree in the city of New York."

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

Its Body Found in the Smoldering Ruins of Its Father's Home.

Fire in a row of cottages on Siyan avenue, near Ashbury Park, N. J., destroyed one cottage and damaged two others, yesterday, and a two-year-old child perished in the flames. Emory Gardiner, a negro, with his wife and two children, lived in the cottage. The parents had gone to work before the fire started, and when the firemen learned that the children had been left in the cottage, it was too late. One, a boy of four years, had escaped, but the body of the baby, little more than a heap of charred bones, was found in the ruins.

BOROUGH PARK TO DEMAND TRANSFERS

Citizens Do Not Like Rossiter Rules as Reynolds Says.

COFFEY TO FACE COLE.

Will Attend Saturday's Hearing and Defend His Recent Speech.

The people of Borough Park, Brooklyn, who have to ride on Mr. Rossiter's "Rap'd" transit cars, according to Mr. Reynolds's rules of the game, are about to go on record as oppressed by those rules.

Former Senator Reynolds, who addressed the State Railroad Commissioners on this subject, expressed the opinion that Mr. Rossiter was doing as well for the people as they could expect. As Mr. Reynolds is heavily interested in Borough Park real estate, it was supposed he spoke for the residents there, but the citizens will hold a mass meeting to show they do not agree with Reynolds. The men are content to reach Manhattan by the elevated railway, but demand surface transfers for the benefit of their wives and children. These do not want to go further than the Brooklyn shopping district or to school, and under the Rossiter system are forced to pay two fares for the trip.

Senator Michael J. Coffey, whom Railroad Commissioner Asher W. Cole denounced at the board's hearing last Saturday, says he will be at the hearing next Saturday and answer Colonel Cole.

"I stand for what I said at the mass meeting," said Coffey, who had declared that the State Board is owned body and soul by the railroad corporations. "Cole will need two more commissioners to hold him down when I get through with him."

Many Brooklyn people are commenting on the fact that Railroad Commissioners Dunn and Cole took a ride over the rapid transit system with President Rossiter on Thursday last. This was the day before the complaints of Brooklyn citizens were to be heard officially by the commissioners.

SALVATIONISTS CONVERT A GOVERNOR'S WILD SON.

He Ran Away from College and Became a Wanderer, but a Praying Band Reached His Heart.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 20.—The son of Governor B. Smith, of Montana, has been found under circumstances which will doubtless be consoling to his family.

The Governor recently telegraphed to the New York Journal and to several other prominent newspapers of the country, asking if the young man, who had run away from college, was employed in any capacity on any of those publications. The young man was wild and headstrong, and his father was anxious for news of him.

Last night when a band of Salvationists was holding a street meeting a well-dressed and prepossessing youth, who was listening in the throng, fell on his knees and asked to be prayed for. He accompanied the revivalists back to their barracks at the conclusion of the meeting, and professing conversion said he was E. C. Smith, the Governor's son, and that he would give up dissipation and return home. His father was notified.

CARNEGIE BUYS A CUBAN RAILROAD AND MINE.

Secures the Largest Manganese Deposit in the World—Will Extend Line.

Santiago De Cuba, Nov. 20.—Reports current for several weeks were confirmed today by the definite admission by officials of the Santanillo & Moroto Railroad and the Penape Mine that both properties had been sold to the Carnegie Company.

The Penape is considered one of the richest manganese mines in the world. It has a practically unlimited deposit of ore assaying 65 per cent. The railroad, which holds a Spanish construction concession to Manzanillo and Guantanamo, is now a paying property, fifty miles from the interior.

Mr. Carnegie's representatives have been active in the district for a month, and have secured options on many valuable iron and manganese deposits along the route of the proposed railroad extensions.
